

About Jacinta Williams

Jacinta Williams has always had an avid interest in the arts. She began singing and playing the piano at an early age, and started ballet at age three. She taught herself to play the violin at age eight and from there went on to receive her Bachelor of Music in Violin Performance from George Mason University.

Growing up she was a member of her church choir, and a two time winner of the Martin Luther King Oratorical Contest. In 2008, she was a finalist in the First Light Discovery Playwriting Mentorship Program, in which participants worked closely with a mentor to write a full-length play.

Recently, Jacinta joined the SAPAN Performance Company as a resident actor and is looking forward to what lies ahead.
